

Excursion 2: Hustai National Horse Park

Friday September 20th – Saturday, September 21st

Hustai National Park is a protected national park preserving various wildlife species including the endangered Przewalski Horse, also known as Takhi. From the grassy plains of ancient Mongolia the takhi retreated into increasingly barren areas due to hunting and grazing pressures. In 1900 12 takhi were captured in Mongolia and bred in captivity to sustain the population. Today over 220 takhi live in Hustai National Park which has been a tremendous success. This is 95 km west of UB Hustai National Park covers 50.6 ha of land extends through the Khentii Mountains and includes the western edge of the Mongolian steppe. In addition to the takhi the park is rich with flora and fauna including 44 species of mammals and 217 species of birds.

Excursion Cost: to be determined by party size.

Participants should book return flights in the evening (specific times TBA) of Saturday September 21st
